Who is Your Pilot?

One of thoughtful mind could not set forth upon a voyage across the ocean without experiencing some solemn thoughts concerning the seriousness of the undertaking. All may be gay as the great ship moves away from the harbor. There may have been joyful and merry songs of good-by; nevertheless, the voyager knows that the issues of the journey are at best uncertain. He has trusted himself to an element which may bring him to the fulfillment of his desire, or may furnish him with his final resting place. Truly, it would be a vain person who could be altogether oblivious to these things. With the spiritual man all of this is true, and more, too. Every man in a large measure has the ordering of his own life. While he does not know the scenes into which the passing days or weeks may lead him, it is his to choose his pilot, his to choose whether his course shall be toward the City of Peace, or away from it. The question comes to us with much seriousness at this hour: "Who is to be our pilot?" Is it to be your desire for wealth, for pleasure, for honor? God forbid that any of these should be your governing motive, God forbid that there should be any desire in your heart but that of doing the bidding of Him who sends you forth.

One of the Last Acts.

The Fifty-eighth Congress, among its last acts, passed a bill authorizing the return of Confederate battle-flags held at Washington, to the several States. Commenting upon this act, and the unanimity with which it went through both houses of Congress, Gen. Stephen D. Lee, Commander in Chief of the United Confederate Veterans, says: "I would be derelict in my duty not to give expression to the satisfaction that fills the heart of every Confederate veteran for the unanimity with which the National Legislature passed the bill restoring the Confederate battle flags to the several States and the readiness with which the measure was approved by the President. This action of fresh evidence that there are now in our grand country no sectional lines—no South, no North, East or West—but we are all Americans, devoted to our common country. And I urge upon all parties, North or South, who have colons in their possession, to return them at once to the State Capitol."

Son Born to Governor and Mrs. Beckham.

John Creepes Wickliffe Beckham, Jr., made his initial bow to the big world on March 21 at Norton Infirmary, Louisville. Gov. Beckham is delighted with his new son, and great hopes are entertained for the future of this young scion of a race of Governors. If there is anything in heredity J. C. W. Beckham, Jr., will be well justified in regarding the "chair" with favor and appreciation. He is the great-grandson, great-nephew and the son of Governors, his great-uncle, Robert Wickliffe, having been Governor of Louisiana for one term, making himself so generally beloved that to the present day he is affectionately spoken of there as Governor Bob.

May the babe grow strong in mind and body, become a great man like unto his fathers and do honor to the State in coming years.

COUNTY ATTORNEY WILL BRING SUIT.

Says Fayette Has Deprived Breathitt of All Its Officers.

County Attorney W. H. Blanton, of Breathitt county, in an interview with a reporter for The Herald, stated that he intended to bring suit against Fayette county in the Federal Court for depriving Breathitt county of its officers without appointing temporary officers to take their places. He says: "Now that Fayette county has assumed guardianship of Breathitt county, it has not done its duty as guardian." As a result of the Court of Appeals granting Fayette county jurisdiction in the cases of the Hargises and Callahan and the application for bail of the prisoners every officer of Breathitt county has been summoned to Fayette county as witnesses in the trial, and the citizens of Breathitt county are totally without protection. If a killing had occurred at Jackson or in Breathitt county last night there would not have been an officer in the county before which the warrant could have been sworn out or by whom, if sworn out, could have been executed. Those officers in Breathitt county who were in Lexington last night as a result of the trial are: County Judge James Hargis and Sheriff Callahan, locked up in the county jail; County Attorney W. H. Blanton, a witness; T. H. Hudson, Deputy County Clerk, the County Clerk is away from Jackson on business; M. A. Spener, Deputy Sheriff; Election Commissioners James Brophy and M. S. Crane, are here as witnesses. There have been no magistrate appointed in the place of Squire Edwards. "It would be an excellent time for a reign of terror to begin, with no one to stop it," says County Attorney Blanton. "One drunken man could do enough damage to have Breathitt county published to the world, and there would be no officers in Jackson to bring him to justice."—Lexington Herald, March 21.

The Commonwealth is now having occasion to decide which would be better for the county, officers or no officers.

Getting Acquainted.

Success in business is largely a matter of getting acquainted—learning the needs and tastes of your customers and making them familiar with yourself, your establishment, your methods and your wares. You cannot get acquainted with the purchasing public in a day, or even a month; it takes time to make yourself "solid," but it is worth while. By cultivating the acquaintance of possible buyers day after day through the advertising columns of the newspapers you establish a basis of confidence that yields constantly increasing returns, and that will in the long run be worth more as an asset than money in the bank.—Philadelphia Record.

If business men would go along all the while and adding largely to their trade they must talk through the local papers. Should they do this wisely there would be no time for talking a city or town dead.

The lumbermen in this country are growing more active each year on account of the growing scarcity of timber. They go into the woods and cut only the most valuable timber, leaving only the worthless trees for the farmer's own use. Our advice is, hold on to your trees. Unless you have considerable woodland you will need those trees before long for the improvement of your farm and home.

End Comes to Veteran Paducah Newspaper Man.

In the death of James P. Thompson Paducah loses one of its oldest and best-known newspaper man. Mr. Thompson died March 21.

Mr. Thompson was born in Louisville Sept. 20, 1844. In 1854 he moved with his parents to Wadesboro, Calloway county, and two years later the family came to Paducah. Mr. Thompson has resided there ever since. In early life he was engaged in the mercantile business and later he owned a job printing office.

Queer Ruling in Kentucky.

A Kentucky court has in its wisdom seen fit to convict Richard W. Knott, editor of the Louisville Evening Post, of criminal libel and to fine him $500. The arguments of the prosecution, which the court sustained, show a remarkable conception of a newspaper's rights and duties.

Mr. Knott was accused of defaming one, Sharkey, keeper of an all-night saloon, by saying that his place was a resort of gamblers and crooks, and was protected by the police who knew its character.

On the stand Sharkey admitted that he allowed gambling in the saloon. The prosecution attempted no defense of Sharkey, but gravely contended that a newspaper must not publish any facts it may have concerning an evil resort. It must submit them to the authorities.

To this Mr. Knott replied that the police were in collusion with Sharkey, and an appeal to them would have been a mere farce. Then, said the sapient prosecutor, the remedy lies in an appeal to the electorate to choose honest public servants. How much an appeal can be made effective without a re-consideration of facts showing official corruption, the learned gentleman did not say.

If the finding of the court be good law every dive-keeper and gambler and every grafting office-holder in Kentucky ought to rejoice. But every fearless honest editor in the State will regard with wrath and astonishment a decision that smacks more of Turkish than of American ideas.—The Fourth Estate, (N. Y.)

IMPROVING — WILL HE
TELL THE WHOLE TRUTH?

In our comments on the playing of card games for prizes we have said that gambling of all kinds should be suppressed by persuasion, moral training if possible; but when this fails let the progressive euchre crowd be placed on an equal footing, in the eyes of the law with colored crap-shooters or the reputed, more high-toned gentlemen."

In commenting on this statement two weeks ago the Editor of the Sentinel-Democrat would have us readers believe that we think the elegant women of this community who indulge in the haughty pastime of playing Progressive Euchre should be placed on a level with negro crap-shooters." He made no reference to our "prizes" or our "persuasion" or moral training if possible;" or our in the eyes of the law" or our reputed, more high-toned gentlemen."

He would have his readers believe that we said what we did not

One week ago he showed some provocation by quoting from us, placed on an equal footing, in the eyes of the law, with colored crap-shooters." Why did he not "or the reputed, more high-toned gentlemen?" Why did he insert our "for prizes" in connection with card games or progressive euchre?

If he desires to tell the truth, the whole truth and nothing but the truth, let him insert in the columns of his paper our ENTIRE article, that his readers may know what we did say, that he may do violence to his conscience, that he may deal honestly with the utterances of one who does not view some matters as he does.

He has our consent to insert our ENTIRE statement. We however will not restrain him from a distorted, scrappy, perverted, practically false statement, if he thinks his course is correct.

We have no apology to make for our statement and no retraction for we believe we are right. We expect to continue our admittance entreaty and prayer, and plead for high moral sentiment and action, in the individual life and in social, business, and political spheres.

WHOSE MEMORY SHOULD KENTUCKY HONOR?

In an editorial published a month or six weeks ago on the unveiling of the statue of Frances E. Willard, in the Hall of Statuary at Washington, we called attention to the fact that Kentucky had not availed herself of the right to place in that hall the statues of two of her citizens.

After the House of Representatives had moved from the old room in which it had held its sessions to the new hall in which it now holds its sessions, the old hall was set apart as a Hall of Statuary. Each State of the Union was given the right to place therein the statues of two of its citizens who had achieved greatness. Since that was done, now nearly half a century ago, nineteen States have placed statues of their sons in that hall, fourteen States the two allowed. We published in the editorial on the unveiling of the statue of Miss Willard a list of those States which have placed statues of their sons there, and the names of those sons, and will reprint that list in Sunday's issue.

Last week the Henderson County Medical Society determined to present to the Legislature the claim of Dr. Ephraim McDowell to have his statue placed in the Capitol and requested the State Medical Society and Medical Journal to use their influence to have him so honored. We are glad to see the action taken by the Henderson County Medical Society. We hope other organizations will present the names of those whom each organization believes the most worthy of having their statues placed in the Hall of Statuary, so there will be a discussion of and a revival of interest in the lives of Kentucky's great sons.

Some four years ago The Herald inaugurated a contest, offering prizes to students in the Kentucky colleges who named the twelve greatest of Kentucky's dead sons. That contest was decided by a jury of two hundred of the leading citizens of Kentucky, and aroused wide interest, not only in Kentucky, but in the other States to which Kentuckians have gone and in which they or their descendants now reside. We do not know what, if any, action the Legislature will take in these elections by the Assembly of the State, as well as on other questions that may come before the body.

After a canvass of this district I am convinced that a majority of the Democrats desire the return of Senators J. C. S. Blackburn and J. B. McCreary to the Senate of the United States, each to succeed himself, and it being my desire that there shall be no misunderstanding of my position on the subject, I take this mode of publicly announcing that I will, if nominated and elected State Senator from this district, vote for Senators Blackburn and McCreary.

He would have his readers believe that we said what we did not part in this contest is, that he or she must be a bona fide student at a Kentucky college or public school. The decision will be by the vote of the people of Kentucky who take an interest in it. We hope that every paper in the State will publish a notice of the contest, and will ask their subscribers to send to The Herald the names of the two citizens whose statues they think should be placed in the Hall of Statuary. The contest will begin Monday, March the 27th, and close Saturday, April 29th.

All selections must be received at The Herald office by that time. Only one selection from each student will be considered, and if there is more than one correct selection, the one received at The Herald office first will be awarded the first prize; the one received second, the second prize; the third correct selection received, the fourth prize. We will republish on Sunday the announcement which we made in the contest four years ago, and from time to time republish the sketches of those twelve great men who were adjudged the greatest of Kentucky's sons.—Lexington Herald.

We copy from the Herald in full with the hope to interest our people. We have had many great men to pass off the stage of action; men of attainments and natural powers, men who have been famous in times of war and peace as well; men who have been great lights as statesmen; men divinely called and who have proclaimed the truths contained in His gospels; men among the world's greatest educators, etc. Who of the dead are most worthy to claim this honor?

GOOD TIME COMING.

Political reforms and revolutions move slowly, but with right, humanity and justice as their basal structure their force can not be checked until they have literally permeated the heart of all men of reason and force. Men may yell or snap or growl, but the people move on to victory. In these revolutions are principles which make the compact organization and which their adherents stand for. It comes slowly but the good times long looked for will be announced one of these days. Trust will be no more. Bossism will be of the past, and every man's opportunity can be taken advantage of and men may acquire according to their merit.

The Sunday's Courier-Journal had 13½ columns of paid advertising. Louisville is bound to go to the front when business men press their interests like this.

To the Democrats of the 28th Senatorial District.

The Democratic Committee will meet in a few days to fix the time and manner of nominating a candidate for State Senator from this, the 28th Senatorial District, to be voted for at the November election 1905. In canvassing the district I find the Democratic voters are much interested in the election of United States Senators to succeed Senators Blackburn and McCreary, both of whose successors will be elected during the term of office to which I aspire, and a number of voters have requested that I define my position, and recognizing that the Democrats of this district have a right to know how the vote of their Senator will be cast in these elections by the Assembly of the State, as well as on other questions that may come before the body.

After a canvass of this district I am convinced that a majority of the Democrats desire the return of Senators J. C. S. Blackburn and J. B. McCreary to the Senate of the United States, each to succeed himself, and it being my desire that there shall be no misunderstanding of my position on the subject, I take this mode of publicly announcing that I will, if nominated and elected State Senator from this district, vote for Senators Blackburn and McCreary.

He would have his readers believe that we said what we did not each to succeed himself as long as his name is before the Democratic Caucus of the General Assembly holding said election.

I further announce that in all other matters coming before the Senate, of which I am a member, I will be guided in my vote and action by what I believe to be the best interest of my people and of the State and what I believe to be the will of a majority of my constituents.

Respectfully soliciting the support and influence of every Democrat in the district, I promise if nominated and elected, to faithfully and conscientiously discharge the duties to the best of my ability of the position of State Senator, I am,

Yours very respectfully,
H. P. THOMPSON.

Committee Meeting.

At a meeting of the Democratic Committee of the 28th Senatorial District, composed of the Chairmen of County Executive Committees of Bourbon, Clark and Montgomery counties, respectively, held at Winchester, Ky., on March 27, 1905, at one o'clock p.m., in pursuance of the call of Jas. H. Thompson, Chairman of said District, there was present at said meeting Jas. H. Thompson, Lee S. Baldwin and E. W. Scott, Chairmen of the County Executive Committees of Bourbon, Clark and Montgomery respectively.

On motion Jas. H. Thompson was elected Chairman and Lee S. Baldwin, Secretary of this meeting, and the following resolutions were offered and adopted, viz:

1. It is ordered that a primary election be held in three counties composing the 28th Senatorial District on the 18th day of May, 1905, for the purpose of nominating a Democratic candidate for State Senator in said district to be voted for at the November election, 1905.

2. In order to defray the expenses of said primary election each candidate who proposes to enter said primary shall or on or before the 3rd day of May, 1905, pay to Lee S. Baldwin the sum of $600, and the names only of such candidates as shall so pay said assessment shall be printed on the ballots to be used in said primary.

3. If only one person shall have paid said assessment by said date then this committee shall meet at Winchester, Ky., on the 6th day of May, 1905, and revoke the call for said primary election, immediately organize as a delegate convention and declare the person who has said assessment to be the nominee of the Democratic party for said position. In such event, after deducting the expense already incurred by the committee, the balance of the assessment shall be repaid to the person paying same, and if the said primary election is held and the expense of same is not fully covered by the assessment of $600 against each candidate the candidates will be required to make up the difference, and if any surplus remains it shall be returned to the persons paying same.

4. The polls shall be opened at the regular voting places in the various precincts of said counties and remain open from 6 a.m. to 4 p.m. on said day. The election shall be conducted in each precinct by two judges, one sheriff and one clerk, to be selected by this committee at a meeting to be held in Winchester, Ky., on the 6th day of May, 1905, and the sheriff of each precinct shall deliver in person under seal or send by mail under the certificate of the officers showing the result of said primary in the respective precincts to Lee S. Baldwin at Winchester, Ky., on or before the 23rd day of May, 1905. The envelope in which said certificates are sealed shall be endorsed by the officers of the respective precincts writing their names across the sealed portion of said envelopes, and to be held by said Lee S. Baldwin and opened only in the presence of other members of the committee or a majority thereof at a meeting to be held in Winchester, Ky., on the 23rd day of May, 1905, for the purpose of canvassing the returns and declaring the result.

5. In said primary election those persons who are devoted to the principles of the Democratic party and who desire to see those principles succeed, and who by participating in said primary shall feel in honor bound to support all the nominees of the Democratic party at the November election, 1905, and who will in that election be legal voters shall have the right to vote in the precincts where they reside, except that in the various precincts of Mt. Sterling, Paris and Winchester, only those persons registered as Democrats and such other Democrats who for some legal reason failed to register at the last registration shall be permitted to vote.

6. Notice of this primary shall be given by posting a notice of same at the Court House in Paris, Mt. Sterling and Winchester, and at two or other public places in each of the counties composing said district for forty days before said election.

Peace Wanted.

Peace talk continues to be heard throughout Europe, and the Russian Council of Ministers is agreed that the time is opportune. Japan is said to be willing to make peace provided Russia abandons for a term of years its programme for the rehabilitation of the navy. Otherwise, it is claimed, it will not be peace, but merely a truce. Meanwhile the armies remain in action and the Russian retreat continues. A strong argument for peace is the growing unrest of the merchant and commercial classes of Russia, who are joining the Liberal party, demanding first peace and then a Constitution.

New Trials For Powers and Jett.

At Frankfort, Ky., on Saturday, March 25, the Court of Appeals overruled the petition of the Commonwealth for rehearing in the case of Caleb Powers, given a death sentence for alleged complicity in the Goebel murder. The court reversed the sentence and the action orders a new trial, which will be the fourth.

The Court, by Judge Barker, reversed the Harrison Circuit Court in the case of Curtis Jett vs. the Commonwealth. Jett was indicted in the Breathitt Circuit Court May 30, 1903, charging him jointly with Tom White with the murderer of J. B. Marcum. The case was tried on a change of venue to Harrison County, and Jett was given a death sentence for the Cockrell murder.

The court reversed on the ground of the admission of heresy testimony of J. L. McCoy as to what John Patrick said and on the refusal of the court to grant him a continuance under the circumstances of trial.

The Mills Seed Co., of Rose Hill, N. Y., has grown to be the largest and most popular seed and plant concerns of the United States. Whisky unlocks the poorness, penitentiary and the grave; unfastens the gates of sorrow, the windows of want, the doors of health; opens the way into the jail, up the scaffold, through the trap; unlocks the heart of the wife to let in regret, the heart of the mother to let in sorrow, the heart of the child to let in shame; it lets loose rivers of tears, ages of sadness, generations of woe; locks up good intentions, words of promise and deeds of duty; it locks the child out in the streets, the wife in the hotel, the father in prison locks up health and unlocks tears; locks up usefulness and unlocks idleness; locks up a happy heart and unlocks melancholy; locks up contentment and unlocks care; locks up health and unlocks hell to those who drink and sell it.

NOT A PATENT MEDICINE

Hyomei, the Guaranteed Cataract Cure, Prescribed by Physicians.

No one should confound Hyomei with the patent medicines that are advertised to cure cataract. It is as far superior to them all as the diamond is more valuable than cheap glass. Their composition is secret, but Hyomei gives its formula to all reputable physicians.

It is the valuable eucalyptus oil, famous for its antiseptic qualities. This is combined with aromatic and healing gums and balsams, making a pure liquid, which when used in the Hyomei pocket inhaler, fills the air you breathe with germ-killing, disease destroying and healing powers that kills all cataract germs there may be in the throat, nose and lungs.

How foolish it is to try and cure cataract by swallowing tablets or liquids. The only natural way to cure this disease and all other diseases of the respiratory organs is to breathe Hyomei.

This treatment has been so successful, curing 99 per cent. of all who have used it, that Hyomei is now sold by W. S. Lloyd under an absolute guarantee to refund the money if it does not cure. You run no risk whatever in buying Hyomei. If it did not possess unusual powers to cure, it could not be sold upon this plan.

The complete Hyomei outfit costs $1.00 and comprises an inhaler, a bottle of Hyomei and a dropper. The inhaler will last a lifetime, and additional bottles of Hyomei can be obtained for 50 cents. [mar-8-20]

A WOMAN'S BACK.

The Aches and Pains Will Disappear if the Advice of This Mt. Sterling Citizen is Followed.

A woman's back has many aches and pains.

Most times 'tis the kidneys' fault. Backache is really kidney aches; That's why Doan's Kidney Pills cure it.

Many Mt. Sterling women know this.

Read what one has to say about it:

Mrs. Mary Kelley, wife of Peter Kelley, farmer, living just outside the city limits on the Winchester Pike, says: "Doan's Kidney Pills were so remarkable and positive in their results that I am compelled to place great faith in them. I was troubled to quite an extent and with a complication of kidney troubles. The symptoms were so marked as to leave no possibility of doubt in my mind as to what kind of medicine I required so on noticing some testimonials of the strongest kind, endorsing Doan's Kidney Pills, my husband procured a box for me at F. C. Duerson's drug store. On taking them I was convinced that the advertised statements concerning Doan's Kidney Pills were nothing short of the truth, for this good preparation absolutely performed what it promised. I can speak positively about the results obtained and will be only too pleased to give minute particulars to any lady who wishes them. My husband also used Doan's Kidney Pills and found the results entirely satisfactory."

Plenty more proof like this from Mt. Sterling people. Call at F. C. Duerson's drug store and ask what his customers report.

Suicide Clause Held Valid.

The Supreme Court affirmed the validity of the suicide clause in an assessment insurance policy. The decision was given in the case of Perry P. The company refused to pay the policy, claiming that the suicide agreement was valid, and has now been sustained by all courts.

THE EMPEROR AND ALEXIEFF ON LIST OF CONDEMNED.

Thirty Thousand Workmen are Locked Out, and Serious Trouble is expected.

The industrial problem in St. Petersburg has again entered on a difficult stage, the owners of many factories having in consequence of constant backing by their employers, decided to close down works, locking out thirty thousand men. The idle workmen are in an ugly frame of mind. Trouble is expected, and it is believed that the wiser spirits are now not without bombs and other weapons of defense and reprisal.

It is openly stated among workmen that the fighting wing of the revolutionists has passed sentence of death on thirty high persons—the list being headed with the name of Grand Duke Alexieff, and ending with that of the Emperor, bearing also the name of the dowering Empress.

Fanaticism is not the same as faith.

WITHOUT BAIL

Judge James Hargis, Sheriff Ed. Callahan and Elbert Hargis are Held.

Senator Alex. Hargis is Allowed to give bond.

with the judge in the matter of bail, but greater weight should be given the testimony. There is no claim on the part of the Commonwealth that any one of the defendants actually fired the shots, so the matter goes as to whether they were present when the shots were fired, assisting and abetting, or whether they were accessories before the fact. In either event if they are guilty they are equally guilty with those who did actually fire the shots.

"One thing is apparent to my mind and that is that James Cockrell was in Jackson for one day only when he was shot and there is no evidence of any kind tending to show that the defendants had any knowledge that he intended coming to Jackson. A. H. Hargis was not in Jackson the day of the shooting and I have made up my mind that A. H. Hargis is entitled to bail, and without summing up the evidence I will refuse bail to the other three defendants.

"This case is of such importance that the Court ought to subordinate all other cases to this one. Its importance does not arise from the nature or seriousness of the crime charged or the prominence of those accused, but because of the serious charges made against the civil government of Breathitt county. The Court of Appeals has held that this Court has jurisdiction of these cases and I am determined to give the case an immediate trial."

Alex. Hargis bond was fixed at $15,000, which he readily gave, and is signed by S. VanDeren, John Flood, Gus Straus and Joseph Skein.

The trial was set for next Tuesday, April 4th.

To take the drudgery out of your occupation regard it as a sacred task given to you to make a better citizen and to help the world along.

An Indisputable SAFE INVESTMENT

The material progress which our country is now, and has been making for the past decade of years, naturally brings to the surface numerous schemes of the "get-rich-quick" character that benefit only the promoters of such, at the expense of innocent investors.

In this age of genuine prosperity with every legitimate business booming, wages high, work in abundance, giving employment to all willing to earn, and products of the farm bringing best prices; there is little or no excuse for one not to join the army of money-makers.

The first and safest investment to make is to become a reader of the CINCINNATI ENQUIRER, the greatest and most reliable newspaper in the United States. With the facts, truth and information gleaned from its columns, one may become well qualified to reach out and secure his share of profit that always accrues from investments intelligently made.

The WEEKLY ENQUIRER costs but one dollar for one year's term. The SUNDAY ENQUIRER costs you two dollars for a year. The DAILY ENQUIRER (7 issues a week) you get for fourteen dollars a year.

Without the aid of a first-class newspaper, success in any enterprise becomes problematical. For ten cents you can secure a sample copy of each, DAILY, SUNDAY and WEEKLY ENQUIRER.

Each for Himself.

"We can not make a Christian, he must become one. We can awaken desire in his heart for the Christian life, and teach him what he must do, but he must do the doctrine for himself. No one else can have faith for him, nor repeat of sin and renounce it, nor be baptized, nor grow in grace and the knowledge of the Lord Jesus Christ, nor be judged on the last day, nor be resurrected in heaven for him. All this is for his sole benefit himself and God."

There is no worship of God without work for men.

Died Suddenly.

Tightly gripping the bowl of a meerschaum pipe, in his undershirt and day shirt, lying in bed with the cover pulled over his head, and his face swelled to four times its natural size, his faithful shepherd dog on watch at the door, John White, of Paris, son of the late G. F. White, was found dead on the 21st in his room over the saloon of Major Henry Turney. Mr. White largely inherited a large fortune from the estate of his father, G. F. White, one of the oldest and most widely known distillers in Kentucky.

Town Sued.

Mr. Branson Grimes, of Harrisburg, has sued the town of Burgin for $5,000 for false arrest. Mr. Grimes is employed by Mr. I. C. James, the liveryman, and in response to a telegram sent by students of Beaumont College, went to Burgin a few weeks ago to meet them with a conveyance, when he was arrested for running—a, back without license. His suit is for the humiliation of arrest and for having been degraded in the eyes of his relatives, friends and the citizens of his community.

Many planters think that by ordering three to four year old trees, of six to seven feet in height they gain a great deal in growth and time of bearing. But this is a serious mistake. Thirty, one and two year old trees will soon overtake the old trees and give better results.

Hives are a terrible torment to the little folks, and to some older ones. Easily cured. Doan's Ointment never fails. Instant relief, permanent cure. At any drug store, 50 cents. [34-4]

CAN'T SAVE IN NEW YORK

Experience of Enterprising Stenographer Who Wanted to Accumulate a Bank Account

"It is of no use," said the stenographer, taking the pencil out of her hairpin and replacing a refractory hairpin, relates the New York Press. "It is of no use trying to save any money. It's against the law in New York."

"Who's been trying to take your money?" asked the other girl.

"Trying to take it? They won't take it. That's the trouble. At least the right people won't take it. I went down to the bank the other day to open an account. I had two weeks' salary to deposit. Before they would look at the roll of bills I carried they wanted me to tell who I was and why I had a right to any money of my own. The clerk looked at me suspiciously over his glasses and told me I'd have to prove that my name was Smith and that I was—well, what I said I was to age. He asked me how long I had been living here and a lot of other questions that were positively impertinent. When he had quite finished and knew more than I did about myself he said he would agree to take care of my money for me—if he decided that the sound and the color of it. When I handed him out $50 he gasped!"

"What?" he cried. "My dear madam, we never accept deposits of less than $200!" and then he looked at me as though I had been trying to pass a bad penny off on him.

"What did I do? Well, I just took a car to my dressmaker's, and she beamed on me and invited me in and told me how pretty I looked, and gave me a glass of wine, and, of course, I bought that burnt onion suit that I had been determined to resist. Two hundred dollars! I don't see how anybody ever gets a chance to save $200 in this town!"

Ennobling and Remunerative.

Earth has no other employ so ennobling nor remunerative than of making Christians, and making Christians truly Christian. That should be our supreme vocation, and banking, merchandising, and other forms of secular serving, be considered merely as useful or enabling avocations.

SUMMER COON.

I want to buy or lease that blue mud plant which is used in keeping the Mt. Sterling Streets in such good soft walking plinth, tho I expect the city duds will want a large price for it as there bread and meat is all dependent on the plant. The I believe if the city tax payers could get a tail bolt on the soap stone plant and go in to the hole sail mortar business and use sum kind of hard material on the streets the would make barrels of money in the mortar bus. If I see the thing right I believe there could be dead loans of the Mt. Sterling mortar used in the building of the new capital at Frankfort and more than that is would likely bring a larg cooper shop to Mt. Sterling. The mortar would have to be shipped in barrels. However, the mortar used on streets instead of hard material is all right so far as the burglars is concerned, they don't want to make any noise when the want to slip up be hind a house. I use to be in the burglar business a way back in my younger days, and I all ways preferd sumthing soft to walk on so my foot steps could not be heard, that is why I say mortar covered streets is all right as far as a burglar is concerned. I don't want to say or do any thing that would hurt the mortar plant, it will bring a large price for good mortar is in demand all over the U. S. States. The buiy of that material is you don't hav to hammer and bang with sledges to get it in small pieces, all you hav to do is clean the weeds and grass off the top of ground load it earful in easy runing spring wagons and dump it in front of the court house wall and she will do the rest. She is all right to hold to hand down. What an opening Mt. Sterling would be for a salt factory. While the city duds are making a good thing as it is, I believe she could do still better by using sunthong harder on the street and turning the soap stone quarys all in one huge mortar plant and git up aginst the right thing. Its a pity to waste the soap stone so extraneously on the streets when mortar is so valuable for building purposes all over the land.

Mt. Sterling is my home and I want to try and get her out of the morter bed. Let's get to geather with our mud guns and clean her out once. So if you will line this up in your next issue so all can see it I think all the people will be in favor of the project. No squard, level headed citizen will object to a change from mortar and dust to hard brick in the business part of the town I don't think. Call the duds to geather and give them a tufur spease and maybe they might add a little calamity water and the mill will grind smooth on any subject.

SUMMER COON.

We take it for granted that all those who start out on the voyage of life, do so in the spirit of hope. Most men, however, have hope. Indeed, when we cease to hope, we may say that in a sense we have ceased to live. The Christian, of all others, has a right to look forward to brighter and better things. His goal is a goal of blessedness, and his defense is unassailable. Too, often, though, like the disciplines on the Sea of Galilee, we set forth in our little boats alone, and fail to recognize our pilot when he comes to help us in our hour of need.

Human and Divine.

In the making of a Christian there must be a correlation of human and divine endeavors. It is man's to cultivate faith and to practice obedience, and it is God's to forgive sins, to adopt into his household and to endue with his Spirit. When in baptism one has rendered the obedience of faith, he is forgiven, adopted, Spirit-filled, and made a Christian.

A Very Sick Man.

It has leaked out that before going abroad Secretary Hay tendered his resignation to President Roosevelt, which the latter refused to accept. The condition of the Secretary's health is more serious than the public has been led to suppose. Before he left Washington he had several sinking spells.

AFTER GRIPPE

Or Any Severe Sickness Our Druggist, Wm. S. Lloyd, Advises Mt. Sterling People to Take Vinol.

Every Person Recovering From a Severe Illness—May be Quickly Restored to Health and Strength by Vinol.

Mrs. G. L. Partridge, of Franklin, Mass., who recently celebrated her 60th wedding anniversary, writes:

"The grippe left me in a very weakened condition—not appetite, thin, nervous and no vitality. Nothing seemed to help me until a friend brought me a bottle of your Vinol. I commenced to take it, and it gave me a hearty appetite, my health and strength returned until I feel like a new creature. I consider Vinol a wonderful medicine for any one who has had a severe sickness; it makes strength and vitality so fast."

We have never sold in our store such a valuable strength creator and health restorer for the convalescent as Vinol. This is because Vinol contains in a concentrated form all of the vital principles of cow liver oil, but without a drop of oil to upset the stomach and retard its work.

Vinol purifies and enriches the blood, tones up the digestive organs, and strengthens every organ of the body to do its work as nature intended.

We ask every person in Mt. Sterling who has been ill to try Vinol on our guarantee to build them up and make them well and strong. We return money if it fails. Wm. S. Lloyd, Druggist.

Expensive Farming.

When one sees a farmer buying expensive grain and feeding it to stock that are housed in bleak yards or inclosures through which cold drafts blow and snow drifts around the animals, one concludes this husbandman is indulging in expensive farming. Any management of live stock or farms that does not return a handsome profit is expensive agriculture. Too many infer that expensive management of farms and live stock implies luxurious buildings and high priced help. Unquestionably too much capital can be invested in appointments for remunerative operation of farms, but all rural buildings should be substantial and constructed for warmth as well as ventilation.

It is a wrong idea that young cattle should be unreasonably exposed in order to give them a rugged constitution. The hardening process stunts the animals and prevents the development of their greatest commercial possibilities. Cattle raised in open yards, or cold in closures, never display the thrift to make the rapid growth which characterizes stock raised under more generous conditions. An animal that nominally should realize $60 at three years old, under generous treatment, will be a slow seller at $30 under the exposure regime.—Drover's Journal.
